

THE SOUTH KENTUCKIAN.

CHAS. M. MEACHAM, EDITOR.
HOPKINSVILLE, MAR. 30, 1880.

Jessie Raymond has been Washington at last, and ceased to persecute Senator Hill with her presence.

The Republican State Convention will meet in Louisville April 14, to appoint delegates to the Chicago Convention, June 2.

Rhode Island has fired the initial gun on the Democratic side by instructing for Tilden. Hully for Rhode.

Edmunds is looming up as a probable compromise candidate with the Republicans, in the event Grant is not nominated.

John Kelly should not be allowed to take part in the proceedings of the National Convention, unless he will pledge himself to support the nomination of the party.

The appointment of district Judge will be made this week. The races between Walter Evans and Dan W. Lindsay, with the chances in favor of the latter.

The Coloradans are kicking at the position taken by the United States in saying that neither Do Lesseps nor any other man shall be permitted to dig a canal across the Isthmus of Panama.

Somebody has circulated the report that Gen. Grant has expressed his intention to withdraw from the Presidential race. It is probably a trick of the Blaine or Sherman men.

It kinder strikes us that the Horner Minstrel is a very appropriate name for a Gauthrie paper, at least one would think so who has ever had occasion to be there during long time.

We have received the Franklin Local all last. It is a spicy and newy little sheet, edited by Mr. A. W. Kelly, who is an old hand at the business. It is placed upon our exchange list with pleasure.

Senator Edmunds says the office of President has no attractions for him, and he doesn't want to be considered a candidate. No, nor the fox didn't want the grapes either, they were old sour things and not fit to eat anyway.

The Union Democrat, in a joking way remarked that the Dixon Pioneer and the local department of the Henderson News were going to consolidate, and several papers have copied it as an item of news. It is a joke on Sam.

The poem entitled "You kissed me," which we published two or three weeks ago, was clipped, and not addressed to us as some have supposed. Most emphatically we are not the fellow who kissed her, and take this method of correcting the erroneous impression. We think it is ungrateful to kiss girls and never do the like.

An exchange says, "Perfect love never settled in a light head." This is hard on those who are not so fortunate as to be blessed with locks of revere hue. We don't believe a word of the statement, for our beauty is of the bleado type and we know that we can love harder than a mule can kick.

Gen Broadus has changed the name of the Guthrie Gazette to the Horner Minstrel. He further announces that the Minstrel has come to stay. We trust it may prosper and meet with that success it so richly deserves. It becomes as popular as the Bowley Minstrel that visited this city, recently he will have a big audience to rattle his bones to.

The Evansville Courier is in error in supposing that the local press of Kentucky is in "opposition to Tilden and the Courier-Journal." Out of about sixty of our State exchanges they are all, with a very few exceptions, enthusiastic for Tilden, and even those who oppose him are just now looking for a soft place to fall after the Cincinnati Convention. Kentucky will send a solid Tilden delegation to the National Convention, just mark that down in your memorandum, brother Shanklin.

The committee appointed to investigate the Kellogg-Spofford case in Congress have decided that the bogus Senator, Kellogg, must step down and out and the report made on the matter by Senator Hill, has caused the gentleman to get his back up to an enormous extent. Kellogg was elected by the Legislature of Louisiana which Hayes afterwards decided to be illegal, and broke up. The mills of the gods have ground slowly, but retribution is about to come upon Kellogg after being three years unseated in his ill-gotten position.

On last Monday, 22nd inst., a sensational report was put in circulation to the effect that the ship bearing Tilden, Grant and party had been lost in a gale on the way from Tampico, Mexico to Galveston. Considerable excitement was created for a while, but the ship proved to be only a day or two late, and arrived at its destination. No doubt the friends of Blaine, and Sherman would have been glad had Providence interfered in their behalf and removed the obstacle that intervenes between them and the Republican nomination. For our part we are glad he turned up safe, as we want to see the man who has been all over the world, humiliated by being ingloriously defeated by Uncle Sammy.

UNCLE SAMMY'S BOOM.

The Bar for Tilden. Three to One

Desiring to feel the pulse of the Hopkinsville bar, on the presidential question, we started out one morning last week and interviewed the members individually, with the exception of one or two who were not in at the time. We did not know the opinions of any of them and, undertook the task merely as an experiment to find how Tilden stood in the city, believing them to be representative men of the community. We give below their answers.

Judge R. T. Pollock:—Bayard is my first choice, but Seymour next. Am afraid Tilden can't carry New York. R. W. Henry:—Am in favor of Tilden as the most available man and further think he did nothing wrong in adopting the pacific measures which he did when counted out. It would have been madness in him to have threatened and assumed the airs of a braggart.

Chas. Knight:—Hancock is my choice.

Judge G. A. Champlin:—I am for Hendricks first, but believe Tilden is the man and will support him. He is my second choice.

Jas. D. Hayes:—Hancock, is my first choice, but Tilden seems to be the coming man. I can see nothing objectionable in his past record, think he acted just as any patriot would have done in regard to the fraud perpetrated in the seating of Hayes, and if he is the man I will cheerfully support him.

L. M. Buice:—I am for Tilden, first and all the time. The people owe it to him and the party to vindicate him from the injustice done in robbing him of his seat, four years ago.

Sam'l. O. Graves:—I think the logic of the situation demands Tilden and an anti-slavery candidate, and of the National Convention he can carry New York.

Judge Joe. McCarrall:—I was one of the original Tilden men in Christian county, and do not propose to desert him while fraud and rascally politics are in vogue. After him I am for Bayard or Field.

Geo. Phelps:—After a very cursory observation, I am convinced that Tilden will be the man. I think the South and West will support any man nominated and believe Tilden is the most acceptable man. The East, and I will cheerfully support him as the Democratic nominee.

W. P. Whitroe:—I am for Tilden.

Judge H. A. Phelps:—I am for Tilden over all other candidates, because I think justice requires it.

Col. J. W. McWhorter:—I am in favor of Tilden, I believe the honor and integrity of the Democratic party demand his nomination. It is better to be defeated with him as our standard-bearer, than to elect any other man without vindicating him from the fraud perpetrated upon him and the party.

S. J. Boyd:—I am for Tilden. He was cheated out of the place once and we must elect him again and seal him.

Judge J. R. Grace, of Cadiz, Circuit Judge of this 2nd District, was in the city visiting his court and in answer to our question said I am for Tilden, and you can put me down for him.

B. F. Rule:—I am for Tilden, was for him in '76 and still believe he is our strongest and safest man.

Geo. W. Payne:—I am for Tilden of course.

Hon. Jas. B. Garnett, of Trigg, was also in the city, and in answer to our interrogation said: "I am for Tilden. The Democrats ought to nominate the old ticket, and go in to win. Tilden is the strongest man, and we ought not to think of nominating any one else, we owe it to him and I believe he will be nominated."

We believe to take the people of the county, they would be found to favor Mr. Tilden in the same proportion. No one else seems to be thought of and even those who are opposed to him are beginning to think that he is the inevitable nominee, and if there is a Democrat in the city who will not cheerfully support him we do not know who he is. The fact of the business is we are bound to do one of two things, elect Tilden or acquiesce in the fraud of '77. The outlook is much better than in '76. We have a majority now in both Houses, the Legislatures of Louisiana and South Carolina have taken precautionary steps against a recurrence of the black deeds of the Republicans four years ago and provided laws to suit such emergencies. The prospect is bright, if we will nominate the old ticket, pass the watershed Tilden, Hendricks and vindication along the line, the old Democratic roster will split his throat a rowling when the election is over, Grant or no Grant.

Young man if you want to ask a married man's opinion of the matrimonial state, don't enquire of the infatuated benedict, but go to some old matrimonial war-horse who has had years of experience in the business. If he thinks it is preferable to a life of celibacy, then hunt your girl, and may the Lord have mercy on you.

The Green-Harris case was postponed several days last week by the death of the father of one of the jurors. We can't understand how the jurors themselves have survived this long. Probably the father died of grief for the fate of his son, in having to listen to all the details of the case.

The Louisville Post and News has begun a series of publications of the prominent candidates for President on both sides, and the sketches will be illustrated with a likeness of each candidate. The initial one was that of Gen. W. S. Hancock.

The anti-third term Republicans have regularly organized and have called a convention to meet at St. Louis May 6th, to give a proper expression of the will of the American people against a third presidential term.

STATE NEWS.

Young ladies wishing to understand the mysteries of the "Press" are cordially invited to visit our office. We will take great pleasure in imparting any information in our power.

The editor of the Glasgow Times, who has been married about two weeks, observed that "Woman isn't so bad after all!"

Delaware, Mr. Bayard's own state, has held her Democratic Convention and instructed for Tilden. There is no use to wink and blink about it, they can't beat Uncle Sam. Whoop, never!

The address of the Dixon Pioneer complains that the young man both for her by hanging around her office.

The poet says:—"In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love."

Watch out girls, the dangerous season is at hand.

We will have mercy on our readers and say nothing about the game of "Fifteen" this week.

Bro. Bristow don't like it because we have a correspondent at Elkton. He thinks we might get all the local news out of the Register.

Why is the Green-Harris trial like an imaginary circle? There is no end to it and nothing in it.

Put "Col." before a man's name and he will feel flattered; put it after it and you'll have him to whip.

Mr. Ben Harrison, of the Henderson News advertises for a partner in order that he may enlarge and improve his sight.

Unfortunately for the spirit of economy and the public demand, the whipping-post bill was killed in the Senate.

A bill qualifying negroes to serve on juries has passed the Senate.

The Robison railroad bill was defeated in the House.

Even the trip across the gulf was a gale—lay one for Grant.

An enthused San Francisco Radical preserves in a glass case the stub of a cigar tossed away by Grant during his recent visit to that city. He doubts whether that stub is to be—pioneer.

—A Mocha of the mind.

Our brother editors throughout the State will tear their hair and howl with envy when they learn that the Local does not receive the "Congressionalist"—Franklin Local.

When a fellow comes into an editor's sanctum and takes a seat, saying, "I hope I'm not interrupting you in your work," and the editor says, "Oh, no; not at all," he unakes the editor tell a lie, and don't you forget it.—State Journal.

Of General Grant, as a boy, General Bristow relates that he once thrashed a big cousin from Canada for speaking disrespectfully of George Washington. The young Cives not only thrashed him, but obliged him to promise that he would never again mention Washington save with profound respect. This little anecdote, which is as trustworthy as the honest story, shows that man differs often from the boy. To-day the Democracy is hunting around for somebody to whip Gen. Grant, because he has no respect for the example of George Washington regarding the third term.—Post and News.

When Congress and the Legislature shall have ceased their jangle and adjourned, when the Green-Harris trial and the Kellogg-Spofford contest shall exist only in dust-gathering records; when the August election and dog days are passed, and another Electoral Commission shall have folded its tents like a band of Gypsies and as silently stolen away from the Democracy the fruits of another Presidential victory—can any rural roster rise up and tell us how, when all these things have happened, he will answer that call that comes like the voice of fate—"More Cops?"—Intelligencer.

Advertising Cheats.

It has become so common to write the beginning of an elegant, interesting article and then run into some advertisement that we avoid all such cheats and simply call attention to the merits of Hop Bitters as plain honest terms as possible, to induce people to give them one trial, as no one who knows their value will ever use anything else.

"I don't want that stuff!"

Is what a lady of Boston said to her husband when he brought home some medicine to cure her of sick headache and neuralgia which had made her miserable for fourteen years. At the first attack thereafter, it was administered to her with such good results, that she continued its use until cured, and made so enthusiastic in its praise, that she induced twenty-two of the best families in her circle to adopt it as their regular family medicine. That "stuff" is Hop Bitters.

Palatable Medicines. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is a honeyed drop of relief; his Cathartic Pills glide sugar-shod over the palate; and his Sarsaparilla is a nectar that imparts vigor to life, restores the health, and expels disease.—Waterford (Pa.) Advertiser.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Fannie D. Hunt, who has been very low for some time is no better. Her many friends will regret to know of her severe illness.

Debating Society.

The boys of Hopkinsville have a complete success in the way of a Lyceum, and the intelligent public properly appreciate of this fact by its attendance at each of its regular meetings. "Was the British Parliament Justifiable in its Impeachment of Warren Hastings" will be discussed at the next regular meeting by M. O. Smith on the affirmative and L. M. Bule on the negative. The old place—benevolent of the Christian church—will be the scene of operations and the public is invited to come and hear those two gentlemen, venturing a question that vexed the master states of Burke and Sheridan. The officers elected last Saturday night, viz: W. W. Clark, president; B. F. Bule, vice-president; Chas. Knight, secretary, and John W. Payne, clerk, will take their seats of office and the said Clark will regulate the audience with an inaugural address. So come ladies and inspire the speakers by your pleasant smiles; come gentlemen and bring the ladies with you and come small boys and keep quiet.

N. B.—An umbrella was left in the hall last Saturday night and is now in the hands of the sexton of the church.

Stock Holders Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the Stockholders of the Christian County Agricultural and Mechanical Association, at the Court-house in Hopkinsville on Monday the 21st day of April 1886, for the purpose of electing a president and six directors and other business.

HERE AND THERE.

We understand the tin-roof of the Western Ky. Lunatic Asylum was badly damaged Saturday by the wind storm.

The boys who have been visiting relatives in Tennessee can return now, as the grand jury is a thing of the past.

A Nashville street merchant took his weekly trip to the country Sunday. Go! He George, faint Hart, never won fair lady.

Judging by the immense quantities of oat-seed our merchants are selling, there will be an enormous crop of that cereal this year.

The Greenbackers held a convention at Croton on the 20th, but it was deemed inexpedient to put out candidates at the present.

Hopkinsville now has a regular merchant-tailoring establishment that sends out its drummers like those of any other city. Mr. Gorham is doing a rattling big business.

If anybody has observed that a certain young dentist, wears a happier smile than usual this week, the cause can be ascertained by referring to the social notes in another column.

Read Mr. M. C. Forbes new advertisement in this issue. He has changed the name of his mill from the Central to the more appropriate one of Excelsior, as he is excelling all competitors in the business.

The Republican candidates for sheriff and clerk are just whooping things. We don't know when they hold their primary election or convention, but it must be close at hand from the vigor with which they are conducting the canvass.

The wind blew down the old shed over the door of the shanty near the Phoenix Hotel, formerly used for a barber-shop. It is a pity it did not blow the whole old rattle trap away so a decent house could be erected on the site.

Easter services were held in the Episcopal church Sunday. Two houses were beautifully decorated for the occasion. We learn that a series of meetings are being held at Concord church by Elder J. F. Smith, a blind preacher.

The partnership lately formed by J. W. Pritchett and M. W. Grissam, in the grocery business has been dissolved. Mr. Pritchett retiring on account of failing health. Mr. Grissam will continue the business at the Wm. Mills stand, on Court street.

The case of E. L. Ginhart has been postponed till the 11th day of the next court, which, if the bill for redistricting the State passes, will be in January. The case of J. H. Ferguson, for the killing of Corbiss was also continued till the 6th day of the same term of Circuit Court.

Last week, by an awkward mistake the types represented Messrs. Winfree & Hart, as selling seed oats at 85 cents when it should have been 58 cents. We are sorry this occurred and make this correction in order that those who have not yet bought may know where to get the cheapest and best.

Mr. Henry G. O'Neill was examined last week, having made application for license to practice law, and given the license upon the recommendation of the examining committee.

He proved himself well posted in legal principles and passed through the trying ordeal without missing a single question. We wish him much success in his chosen profession.

We attended the sale of the partnership stock and farming utensils, of Messrs. Clary & Hickman, near Bellevue, last Tuesday, and were surprised at the good prices for which the live stock generally sold.

There is evidently a better time in the near future. There seems to be more money circulating in the country, and the people seem to be inclined with more hope and confidence.

The Committee appointed to make arrangements about the building of new Public school house, examined the plans and specifications of a number of architects from Evansville, Louisville, St. Louis, Clarksville, and this place, and selected the drawing of Mr. C. G. Rosenbloom of Clarksville. The house will be three stories high and will accommodate about 600 pupils. The work will probably begin in a short while.

We hear of many improvements to be begun as soon as spring opens. Dr. Glah will erect a fine new building on the vacant corner opposite the Phoenix Hotel. The Baptist church will be renovated and improved. Mr. John Young will put up a business house on Court St. The Public school building will be put up and many dwellings and other houses will be erected. Again we say let the good work go on.

The South Kentuckian is just booming. Last week we added to our list twenty-five new subscribers, and it wasn't a good week for getting them either. We attribute the success of our paper in satisfying the wants of the people, in a great measure to the system of correspondence which we have now established all over this and adjoining counties.

Call and try the excellent pure candies, made fresh every day, at the tent stand, opposite the Phoenix Hotel. Pure Cream Candies 25cts per pound. Cream Caramels of every flavor, 40 cents per pound.

Something new, Ice Cream candies. Try Webber's Cough candies, made fresh and pure at the Tent stand.

SINKING FORK.

There are now only seven prisoners in the county jail.

There will be a dance at the residence of Mr. Livy Buckner, near the city, to night at a pleasant time. It is anticipated. Thanks to the committee for an invitation.

Attention is called to the new column advertisement of Messrs. Blum, McNeill, McCamy & Rouse. The gentlemen are doing an enormous business in their line and are in every way worthy of the patronage and confidence of the public.

Dr. Gray allowed the young folks to have a pleasant little social dance at the Central Hotel last night. It has been some time since a dance has been in the city, and this one was highly enjoyed by all.

Mr. J. H. Tunks, we are glad to report has almost recovered, and is ready to resume work at his blacksmith shop on Russellville street. His advertisement appears in this issue, and his friends will find him ready to shoe horses or do anything else in his line.

We will publish the spring poem which we decide to be the best, next week, and the premium will be ready, subject to the order of the author. Some have been received that are over fifty lines in length and in order to give all an equal chance we will extend the limit to one hundred lines.

Rev. J. F. Hardwick, of the Salem neighborhood, was so unfortunate as to lose his house and the greater portion of his furniture, library, etc., by fire last Saturday night. Mr. Hardwick is the pastor of Salem Baptist church, and the house in which he resided was the parsonage of that church, and was situated so near the latter that the church itself was saved with difficulty. The fire occurred at night and originated from a defective flue. We did not learn the full extent of the loss, but it was considerable, including nearly all of the household goods and extensive library of Mr. Hardwick, who can ill afford to lose them. He has the sympathies of all in his misfortune.

Gish & Garner.

Messrs. Gish & Garner have finished their new drug store and are now busy moving back into it. The house is one of the finest and handsomest in the city and has been fitted up in the most city like style. The front presents an appearance second to none in attractiveness and convenience. It is arranged with taste and beauty, all of the shelving etc., having been re-modeled and rearranged. The building is a credit to the city, and Messrs. Gish & Garner deserve to be reckoned among our most enterprising citizens as well as our most reliable business men. The firm is one of the oldest in the city, and they already enjoy a reputation as straight forward energetic business men that renders commendation unnecessary. They will keep a stock of drugs, stationery, etc., to compare with their magnificent store room, and are now ready to receive and serve their friends and patrons in a room that for beauty and elegance is not surpassed by any in the city.

Court Doings.

Circuit Court adjourned Saturday after a very busy term. Only one regular trial was held. The case of Elias Bell for two years, for stealing bacon. Wesley Royal was also sentenced for one year, but obtained a new hearing. Henry Edmunds, sentenced to 50 days in jail for larceny. Ira Cooper charged with arson and house breaking obtained a change of venue to Muhlenberg county. Jas. Brunette charged with rape got a continuance. Ben Whitlock indicted for manslaughter was placed under a bond of $2,000 for his appearance at the next term. As mentioned elsewhere other important cases were also continued. A good deal of business was disposed of, considering the bad weather most of the time, and Judge Gracie fully sustained his reputation as a judge equal to the best in the State.

CHURCH HILL.

Roads are getting in a fine condition. Ponds are lined with fish hunters from sunrise till midnight. Plant-bod-burning is being wound up for this season.

A good deal of gardening was done last week.

There is absolutely no news in this best town.

March is making up for lost time. Abe Ford is building a patent fence for Mr. W. W. West.

Mr. Brink, agent for the "Eagle" seed sower was in the neighborhood last week and sold several machines.

Dr. Fugua was expected as he gave appointment to lecture at the Grange hall last Friday, but failed to come to time.

The Texas fever has sprung up around here to an immense height in the last few weeks. Company "A," A. L. Ford Captain, will be the first to start. Guess the vacancy occasioned by their departure will be filled with Chinamen.

Dr. Fugua and Clark, of Hopkinsville came but last Tuesday to assist Dr. Williams in performing a surgical operation on an old colored woman near this place. After examination it was deemed best to postpone the operation a week.

Venator, the Canadian clerk of the weather predicts another snow about the 18th of April. Some one should induce him to postpone it until next winter, for we have the varied equinox upon us and we understand yet to meet green, and snow is not exactly that shade.

More tobacco was moved from this neighborhood last week and the week before, than for six months past.

Hereafter, much of the grain will be hauled to Clarksville for shipment. If grain was turned over and shipped over those railroads to market, on arrival, would be spoiled and, and the greater portion of it taken for carriage.

(Farmer's Home Journal.) On Friday last Mr. R. M. Rodman, of Davis county, sold two White Burley hds. of his own growing at $15 for the leaf and $9 for lugs.

It is said that Dick Crider, of Oldham, has sown a tobacco plant bed ten years in succession, and has burned it but three times in that.

A Graves county farmer has exhibited samples of Africans, measuring forty-two to forty-four inches long and sixteen to twenty inches broad.

In the Owen county district, the air is reported heavy this week with the smoke of burning plant beds. The weather in the last few days, has been very favorable both for the preparation of beds, and for the germination of the seed in the plant beds of the lower counties. These, by the way, have been rather forward in sowing, while in the middle and northern districts, farmers are beginning to express much uneasiness at the delay enforced by the delay, enforced by the dampness of the soil.

The offerings of tobacco on the market have not been numerous since our last report, and prices are hardly so well sustained, although it is claimed by the tobacco men that they are much higher than in Louisville.—Greenboro M. and E.

OFFICE: 114 1/2 N. 2nd St., Main and 2nd.
HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

Going to New Orleans in Character.

Shortly after the collapse of the Confederacy, an ex-soldier who had spent all his pay in drinking and who by drinking found himself in a shabby, ragged and shabby, yet full of spirit. Desirous of reaching his home he inquired the fare, and to his dismay found it to be $15. Now that amount was as big as a million in Billy's sight. After casting about he thought of a scheme. The steamer "National" was nearly ready to leave her berth when Billy made his appearance on the wharf and sang out:

"I say, Captain, how much do you charge to carry a barrel of whisky to New Orleans?"

"Two dollars," replied the Captain.

"All right," replied Billy. "Send out a couple of your deck-hands and roll me aboard!"

Capt. Hamilton saw the joke, and sent out the men to take the whisky. Billy was invited to a seat at the cabin table by the Captain, and traveled to New Orleans in style, with a "barrel of whisky" by which name he was afterwards known.

Making a Newspaper.

It was an exceedingly cold night, and Mr. and Mrs. Danby huddled the stove closely, passing the time reading a paper and, she, sitting looking into the fire.

Without any preface whatever, she dropped the paper. "How much more do it strike the heart that Mr. Danby stopped his reading abruptly, and looked over the top of his spectacles inquiringly."

Mrs. Danby had a happy thought, quickly it was transmitted to Mr. B. "John," said she, "you remember some time ago you promised to tell me how newspapers are made."

Yes, yes, just some other time love. No, now, please, John. Again he tried to content her with a promise, but it was of no avail; she wanted to know, then, just how papers are put together.

He hesitated. The longer he hesitated the more impatient she grew, and he felt it. Seeing that posthumous was of no avail, he heaved a long sigh, laid aside his paper, and reluctantly began to narrate for his wife's edification the inner life of a newspaper.

In the first place, said he, the copy is sent to the composing room. "Where does the copy come from?" she queried.

From the editor and reporters, of course. Oh, I see.

Then it is given to the typesetter. "What do they do, set it up?"

No, no, no, they are compositors who set it up. Oh, they compose the copy and then set it up. But how does it set?

He drew another long sigh and calmly replied: "The editors compose the copy, then send it to the composition room and the typesetters put it in type."

What had the copy? Yes, they set the types up so that they will read as the copy reads.

Oh, I see. A pause ensued. John, said Mrs. Danby, you stopped at the compositors setting the type. What do they set the type in?

In a stick. A stick! What kind of a stick? O, a stick is a device that is just the width of the column of the paper, and holds seventeen lines of brevier. And what is brevier?

A kind of type that is pleasing to the eye and easily read. Oh, I see.

When the printers get a stick full, he went on, they empty—

Are the printers different from the compositor? No, he replied, a little out of temper, they are all the same.

Oh, I see. When they get a stick full of type, as I was about to say, they empty it on a galley.

And in throwing it upon a galley, don't it go all apart? No, they lift it from the stick, and place it gently, very gently, on a galley.

And what's a galley? A long article made of brass, in which the matter is proved—

What kind of matter, and how do they prove it? Will you wait a moment? If so, I will try and explain—but give me time, he said, nettled a little at her cross examination.

All right, go on. Type, when it is set up, is called "matter," and when the first impression of it is taken, they call it—

Impression of what? Oh, brother—the type when it is first printed on the galley, that is called a proof, and they call it "proving the matter."

Oh, I see. Does the galley print it? No, the devil!

Oh, John! he cried in tones of reproach. Why will you use such words. I was not swearing. The apprentice around a printing office is known as "the devil."

Oh! The proof sheet which he takes after going to the proof-reader, is returned to the printers and the corrections are made.

Corrections made in what? The matter, my dear. It is then given to the foreman.

What, the proof? No, the matter. And what does he do with it? Will you wait a minute?

The foreman takes the matter and places it in the form. What kind of a form? An iron class, which, when it is all the news in it which is in type, and it is locked up, is called a form.

Shoots the quoin into place with the aid of a mallet. She did not quite understand, but saw by the white of his eye that he was not to be questioned him too much, so she bled her time and he went on.

Sometimes the matter is paged—

How's that?

Why, when some type is knocked over or dropped on the floor, it is useless, and is called by the fraternity pi.

He thought he had got through, but the irrepressible wife continued: Where do they make the form up? On the stone, was the rejoinder.

What kind of a stone—a round one?

No, a flat one—a piece of level marble.

Oh, I see.

Well, when the form is made up it is put on the printing machine and the edition goes to press.

What do they press the papers for? They don't press the papers, press means printing, and after they are printed, are circulated throughout the city.

Oh, I see, and after writing some little things for him to continue, Mrs. Danby asked, is that all?

"Thank heavens, yes," he grumbled from behind the paper he had resumed. Silence followed. He read on undisturbed for fully an hour. His wife having regained her hold on the poker, was occupied in twirling it, at the same time musing, while looking intently at the ashes, types, matter, galley, proofs, devils, quoin, presser.

Aspecial to the Courier-Journal says: Gainesville, Ga., is all excitement over the seduction, under promise of marriage, of Miss Howard, a leading society belle, by a young man by the name of Wilson, formerly of Greenville, S. C., but recently a resident of Gainesville. Wilson, upon refusing to marry the young lady, was promptly jailed on the charge of seduction. While in jail he proposed to marry Miss Howard, which proposition was accepted, and the ceremony was performed with the iron cell door separating the couple.

A equally recent item sent a reply to the invitation, in which he regretted that circumstances repugnant to the romance would prevent his acceptance of the invitation.

How Postage Stamps Are Made.

In printing, steel plates are used, on which 200 stamps are engraved. Two men are kept at work composing them with colored inks, and passing them to a man and a girl, who are equally busy at printing them with large rolling hand-presses. Three of these little squalls are employed all the time, although ten presses can be put into use, in case of necessity. After the small sheets of paper upon which the 200 sheets are engraved have dried enough, they are sent into another room and gummed. The gum used for this purpose is a peculiar composition made of the powder of dried potatoes and other vegetable mixed with water, which is better than any other material, for instance, gum arabic, which cracks the paper badly. This paper is also of a peculiar texture, somewhat similar to that used for bank notes. After having been again dried, this on little racks which are fanned by steam power for about an hour, they are put in between sheets of paste board and pressed in hydraulic presses capable of applying two thousand tons. The next thing is to cut the sheet in halves, each sheet, of course, contains one hundred stamps. This is done by a girl with a large pair of shears, cutting by hand being preferred by machinery, which method would destroy too many stamps. They are then passed to two other squalls, who, in as many operations, perforate the sheets between the stamps. Next they are pressed once more, and then packed in labeled and stored away in another room preparatory to being put in mail bags for dispatching to fulfill orders. If a single stamp is torn, or in any way mutilated, the whole sheet is burned. For the past twenty years not a sheet has been lost, such care has been taken in counting them. During the progress of manufacturing, the sheets are counted eleven times.

Dr. C. J. Moffet—Dear Sir—I can not too strongly recommend your Teethina (Teething Powder) to mothers as one of the best medicines they can obtain for their debilitated and sickly infants. I have used it with very satisfactory results the past summer with my own child, and while we have here lost a child or two from teething under other remedies, our present child that has taken Teethina is a fine healthy boy. Its merit is certain to make it a standard family medicine for this country for the treatment of teething and bowel disorders of children of all ages.

I am, very respectfully, A. P. BROWN, M. D. (Brother ex-Gov. Jos. E. Brown.)
